Summary:

I have learned my first lessons about seamanship sailing dinghy with my father when I was just a kid. Until 2008 I gained my experience sailing along with my family or friends. First serious sailing happened in 2008 when I spent a week on the 14 m long sailing yacht. During that very week I realized that sailing is my passion and being a skipper was a dream job for me. Between 2008 and 2012 I attended several sailing courses and skippers' drills in order to gain enough experience to begin my professional career. Furthermore, I joined YC Endemi sailing team and found my place there as a 2nd headsail and spinnaker trimmer. So far I navigated sailing yachts and motorboats up to 57 feet along with catamarans up to 45 feet. I like tasting and preparing Mediterranean local food as well as I know a bit about Croatian wines. In addition with my good spoken and written English I believe I make a good holiday skipper.
